

McCARTHY.

He Begins His Defense Before the Council.

He Offers the Customary Protest, and It Is Overruled.

A Touching Tale of the Sour, Cold Deacons.

And How They Interfered with the Work of Grace.

His Delicate Distinction Between a Lie and a Deception.

Which He Illustrated by Incidents from Exodus.

He Denies or Explains the Various Charges Made, and Some Are Dropped.

Discourteous Way in Which His Adherents Are Treated.

Adjournment Till This Morning.

MORNING SESSION.

The Baptist Council, called to investigate the charges against the Rev. Florence McCarthy, renewed its sessions yesterday morning in the Union Park Church, the Moderator, the Rev. A. J. Frost, in the chair. The case for the prosecution and the defense were heard yesterday morning. The Council sat with closed doors, only the reporters and Deacons being admitted. The usual devotional exercises preceded the regular proceedings. McCarthy was on hand, attended by his counsel, Mr. Beach, while Messrs. Barr and Kohlsaat conducted the prosecution.

RAVEN.

The Rev. Mr. Gordon directed the attention of the Council to the statement of the Rev. Mr. Ravelin, to the effect that some member of the Council was the Chicago correspondent of the Examiner and Chronicle, published in New York, and that his writings showed that he had prejudiced the case. If these were true, this man ought to be expelled.

Prof. Mitchell said he did not believe there was any evidence to show that the correspondent was a member of the Council.

Rev. Mr. Whitehead said it was well known that Mr. J. G. Gray was the correspondent in question.

In order to settle the question, all the members present indicated that none of them was the correspondent, by rising to their feet.

NO APOLOGY, GENTLEMEN.

The following letter from the Rev. Mr. Ravelin was read:

Dear BAPTIST COUNCIL: I have been officially informed that you had sent me a note, enclosing a copy of my letter to you, requesting me to make an apology to the Council for the position I had assumed, and the little speech I made at the annual meeting of the Union Park Baptist Church.

If the reader is not acquainted with what I was expected to do, he will find it in the paper I have enclosed.

Another opportunity soon occurred for the exhibition of the spirit of my opponents. On the last night of the annual meeting, the services in the main audience room of the church.

With much toil and trouble, and entirely toward all,

CHICAGO, March 31, 1874.

It was moved, and finally carried, that the Council revoke its action, with Mr. Ravelin and the other members of the Council.

Mr. Barry, counsel for the prosecution, inquired what the line of defense was to be.

The Moderator said that the defendant would not be allowed to impeach the moral character of that offered by the prosecution, but he would be allowed to impeach the moral character of his people, and continue:

I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council.

Rev. Mr. Whitehead said it was well known that Mr. J. G. Gray was the correspondent in question.

Mr. McCarthy rose to speak, and Mr. Barry stood up in the same time. The former demanded that "he may be compelled to sit down."

Mr. Barry expressed his contempt for the reverend "braggart," as he called him.

Mr. McCarthy then read the following protest:

"My latest sun is sinking fast,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

"I am grieved to see that the correspondent was a member of the Council,

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION (PAYABLE IN ADVANCE).
Subscription, $12.00 per year. $3.00 per month.
Postage, $1.00. Weekly, $0.50.
Parts of a year at the same rate.
To prevent delay and expense to our men, we give Post Office address to all our subscribers State and County.
Remittances may be made either by draft, express,
Post Office order, or in registered letters, at our risk.

TELEGRAMS.—Send to Chicago, 25 cents per week.
DRAFT, DELIVERED, SUNDAY INCLUDED, 20 cents per week.
Address THE TRIBUNE COMPANY,
Garrison and Dearborn-sts., Chicago, Ill.

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS.

WICKERS' THEATRE.—Madison street, between Madison and Monroe. Engagement of Mrs. Anna A. Bates' Combination. "Les Baraques."

DELPHI THEATRE.—Corner of Wabash avenue and Congress street. Grand-oeil entertainment. Ziegler, Muller and Co. Engagements of Mrs. Anna A. Bates' Combination.

HOOLEY'S THEATRE.—Randolph street, between Clark and LaSalle. "Rinks." Afternoon and evening.

GLOBE THEATRE.—Desplaines street, between Madison and Washington. Engagement of the Joe Brothers' Combination. "Puff, the Magic Dragon." "Hampy Dampy Abroad." Afternoon and evening.

MYERS' OPERA-HOUSE.—Monroe street, between Dearborn and State. Arlington, Cotton, and Keeble's combination of "Babes in Toyland."

KINGSTON MURK HALL.—Clark street, between Randolph and Lake. Lecture by Prof. Pepper. On examination.

SOCIETY MEETINGS.

ORIENTAL CONSISTORY, S. P. R. R., are hereby ordered to appear at their Asylum fully armed and prepared to repel any sudden attack, and to stand by, to defend the honor and reputation of our late illustrious brother, J. T. QUENY, Commander-in-Chief.

GARDEN CITY LODGE, No. 161, A. F. and A. M., will meet at Oriental Hall, LaSalle-st., on Wednesday, April 1, at 8 o'clock a. m., to record the funeral of brother John L. Davis, deceased.

H. F. HOLCOMBE, Secretary.

BLANEY LODGE, No. 21, F. and A. M.—Special Committee this evening, at 7 P. M. Work, All are invited.

CHICAGO COUNTRY CLUB, No. 4 R. & S. M.—Regular Committee this evening, at 7 P. M. Work, All are invited.

ST. GEORGE.—All the members are expected to meet at Oriental Hall, LaSalle-st., at 9 a. m. to-day (Wednesday), to record the funeral of our late beloved member, John L. Davis. By order, J. J. BURBANKS, Secretary.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THE CONSUMMATIVE.—WILBUR'S COMPUND OF Lard, Oil and Lard, with the most delicious flavor of the article as heretofore used, is now on the market, and will render the cold doubly efficacious. Remarkable testimonies of its efficacy are exhibited in those who have used them. Sold by A. S. WILBUR, Champaign.

The Toledo, Peoria & Wabash Railroad has taken the hint of the laborers' meeting at Peoria, that, if their overdue wages were not forthcoming, a repetition of the Susquehanna Depot trouble would be in order. It has asked and received permission from the United States District Court in this city to devote its surplus earnings to the payment of its indebtedness to its workmen. The rights of other creditors are postponed.

England has not heard the last of the Alabama claims. A movement is on foot to make the Government reimburse the English sufferers by the deprivations of that destructive craft. By paying the claims of the Americans, it has estopped itself from denying its liability. A motion was introduced into the House of Commons last night calling upon the Government to treat the British sufferers as well as the Americans.

Davis gained ten votes, apparently, in the Senatorial election yesterday, and this is due to increase of strength, but to the larger number of votes cast, these reaching 274, against 256 the day before. How, then, Curtis also gained several votes, so that no change in relative positions can be considered to have taken place, except, perhaps, in Curtis' case, who got two more votes than in any preceding ballot.

"Not guilty" is the verdict in the first trial to bring Sanborn to judgment. Judge Bond, of the United States District Court of New York, has decided that the indictment on which he was to be tried in Brooklyn is fatally defective. The contract averred in the indictment was not the one he really made. The other points of law raised by his counsel were not considered. The jury were therefore directed to bring in the above verdict, which they did amid the plaudits of his friends.

The Pacific has been the scene of a steamship-disaster, not so terrible as the dreadful calamities in which the Atlantic has swallowed its hundreds, but sad enough. The steamship Nile has gone down somewhere between Hong Kong and Yokohama, and all aboard, to the number of eighty, were drowned. Among the victims were the Japanese Commissioners to the Vienna Exposition. Whether any Caucasians were among the passengers is not stated. There are some Americans of high rank traveling in that part of the world.

An industrial disaster, which imperils the livelihood of 15,000 persons, is impending at Providence. The National Bank of Commerce has instituted proceedings in bankruptcy against the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company. Sprague's efforts are being made to persuade the bank to withdraw its suit. If these are unsuccessful, as is likely, 15,000 persons will be thrown out of work. The trustees for the creditors say that the course taken by the bank will cost the creditors at least a quarter of a million of dollars, and that this, as well as the ruin of the operatives, is an utterly unnecessary loss, as the Company, if let alone, would be able in due time to pay every cent it owes.

The Chicago produce markets were rather more active yesterday, breakfasts being steady and provisions stronger. Meats were active and 20s per bushel higher, closing at $15.30 to $15.32 1/2 cents, and $15.00 to $15.15 cents. Lard was quiet and 25c per 100 lbs higher, closing at $17.15 to $17.30 cents, and $9.35 to $9.57 cents. May. Meats were quiet and unchanged, closing at $16.15 to $16.20 cents.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Wednesday Morning, April 1, 1874.

The Rev. Mr. McCarthy's trial was resumed yesterday with the presentation of that divine's defense. It is impossible to give the points of that extraordinary document, or to describe the ridiculous scenes which took place in the Court yesterday. A greater travesty upon religion and justice was perhaps never seen in this country in one combination. Our readers will find the farce fully reported elsewhere.

The Toledo, Peoria & Wabash Railroad has taken the hint of the laborers' meeting at Peoria, that, if their overdue wages were not forthcoming, a repetition of the Susquehanna Depot trouble would be in order. It has asked and received permission from the United States District Court in this city to devote its surplus earnings to the payment of its indebtedness to its workmen. The rights of other creditors are postponed.

England has not heard the last of the Alabama claims. A movement is on foot to make the Government reimburse the English sufferers by the deprivations of that destructive craft. By paying the claims of the Americans, it has estopped itself from denying its liability. A motion was introduced into the House of Commons last night calling upon the Government to treat the British sufferers as well as the Americans.

Davis gained ten votes, apparently, in the Senatorial election yesterday, and this is due to increase of strength, but to the larger number of votes cast, these reaching 274, against 256 the day before. How, then, Curtis also gained several votes, so that no change in relative positions can be considered to have taken place, except, perhaps, in Curtis' case, who got two more votes than in any preceding ballot.

"Not guilty" is the verdict in the first trial to bring Sanborn to judgment. Judge Bond, of the United States District Court of New York, has decided that the indictment on which he was to be tried in Brooklyn is fatally defective. The contract averred in the indictment was not the one he really made. The other points of law raised by his counsel were not considered. The jury were therefore directed to bring in the above verdict, which they did amid the plaudits of his friends.

The Pacific has been the scene of a steamship-disaster, not so terrible as the dreadful calamities in which the Atlantic has swallowed its hundreds, but sad enough. The steamship Nile has gone down somewhere between Hong Kong and Yokohama, and all aboard, to the number of eighty, were drowned. Among the victims were the Japanese Commissioners to the Vienna Exposition. Whether any Caucasians were among the passengers is not stated. There are some Americans of high rank traveling in that part of the world.

An industrial disaster, which imperils the livelihood of 15,000 persons, is impending at Providence. The National Bank of Commerce has instituted proceedings in bankruptcy against the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company. Sprague's efforts are being made to persuade the bank to withdraw its suit. If these are unsuccessful, as is likely, 15,000 persons will be thrown out of work. The trustees for the creditors say that the course taken by the bank will cost the creditors at least a quarter of a million of dollars, and that this, as well as the ruin of the operatives, is an utterly unnecessary loss, as the Company, if let alone, would be able in due time to pay every cent it owes.

The Chicago produce markets were rather more active yesterday, breakfasts being steady and provisions stronger. Meats were active and 20s per bushel higher, closing at $15.30 to $15.32 1/2 cents, and $15.00 to $15.15 cents. Lard was quiet and 25c per 100 lbs higher, closing at $17.15 to $17.30 cents, and $9.35 to $9.57 cents. May. Meats were quiet and unchanged, closing at $16.15 to $16.20 cents.

Secretary Richardson, a Commissioner Douglass, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, testified before the Committee of Ways and Means yesterday about the Sanborn business. Secretary Douglass gave absolutely no information and $1.25% seller May. Corn was moderately active, and 20c higher, closing at $16.50 cents, and 65c per bushel May. Oats were dull and easier, closing at $12.50 cents, and 40c/seller May. Rye was quiet and steady at 90c. Barley was dull and easier, at $1.02 for regular No. 2. On Saturday evening last there was a storm in this city 3,507,619 bushel wheat; 2,838,269 bushel corn; 851,973 bushel oats; 29,178 bushel rye, and 217,007 bushel barley. Live hogs were active and firm; selling at $5.60 for 600 for common to choice. Cattle were active and steady at Monday's prices, with sales at $4.00 to $6.62% for common to extra. Sheep were active and firm.

A new desolation has been added to the waste of the Cuban insurrection. The sugar plantations of the island are being put to the torch. The incendiaries are unknown, but they are presumably the insurgents. Their estates have been confiscated. They are driven to desperation, and are but too ready to sacrifice anything that will lessen the attractions of their beloved island for the Spaniards. A large portion of Spanish revenue from Cuba depends upon the sugar crop, and Spanish finances are, therefore, involved. Cuba furnished about one-third the sugar crop of the world, and, if the destruction of the cane becomes general, its effect will be fairly worldwide.

An irrepressible conflict has been inaugurated in Germany by the ecclesiastical laws recently enacted. Sustained by the Papal approval, the priests are determined that they shall not be obeyed, while the Government is not less resolute in the determination that they shall be obeyed. The Government has the best of it so far. Behind the law it has the iron will of Prince Bismarck and the prisons of the State. A third Church dignitary, the Archbishop of Bologna, followed the Archbishops of Treves and of Posen to prison yesterday. No riot followed this arrest at Treves. The unfortunate priests have no weapons of defense but communications and the like, which is not the kind of artillery that fortune favors in these practical days.

Jay Gould is credited with having incited the recent strike at Susquehanna Depot. His object in this is the late malicious report of Auditor Dunbar, also attributed to him, was to embarrass the road that he might get possession of it. Affairs at the scene of the strike are at a dead lock. The strikers have unanimously resolved that none of them shall return to work. The Company adheres to its determination to employ but 500 men, and threatens that it will move the shop to some other point on the road if the strikers create any more trouble. The precaution has been taken of carrying away the more valuable machinery to place it beyond the reach of the workmen. The news that the masons have returned to work shows that the determination of the workmen to toil no more for the Erie Road is not above the allurement of pay.

OUR IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

The report of the New York Chamber of Commerce gives a detailed statement of the commerce of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, and shows the proportion of the imports and exports of that port, compared with all the other ports of the country. From this statement we compile the following results:

Value of imports at New York. $426,982,497
Value of imports at all other ports. 237,258,400

Total value of imports. $664,231,897

Value of domestic exports at New York. $26,000,000
Value of exports from all other ports. 260,600,500

Total value of domestic exports. $26,260,500
Foreign imports re-exported from New York. 18,972,000
Same re-exported from other ports. 9,177,412

Total exports and re-exports. $67,260,000
Imports. $63,661,147

Exports of over imports. $ 13,664,927

THE NEXT INFLATION.

The passage of the bill authorizing the issue of forty-four millions of legal-tender notes is one of those measures whose remote consequences are worse than their immediate effects. The five Judges of the Supreme Court who were able to find authority for the issue of any paper stamped as legal-tender had to first discover that the country was in a state of war, with an empty Treasury, with credit gone, unable to collect taxes; that a navy was wanted, and there was no money to purchase it; that an army was in the field, and no money to pay, feed, and clothe it; that there was an impulsive and overshadowing necessity existing; and, having discovered this unexampled condition of affairs, they said that to their liking, and their further plans with regard to it are shown by Mr. Gordon's amendment for free banking. He proposes to give each State the same amount of circulation in proportion to wealth and population that Maine now has. When Senators Logan and Morton have carried this, they must add another amendment, that every Western and Southern State shall do the same proportionate amount of business that Maine now does.

Reuben Morton's amendment to strike out of the Compromise Currency bill the provision for the redemption of greenbacks was carried yesterday by a majority of 4. This, and the action of the day before in striking all mention of any resumption of specie payments, take the active neutrality of the Treasury Department in Sanborn's favor. An equally serious charge is that the prosecution was conducted in the face of an active neutrality of the Treasury Department. A Assistant-District-Attorney Hughes, a brother-in-law of Attorney-General Williams, after a visit to Washington, approached his associate, Mr. Hoxie, with the promise that, if he would discontinue the prosecution, the position of District-Attorney Teaney was his.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S SPEECH.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

THE DEATH OF JOHN BROWN.

In his allusion to the international trade negotiations opened at Washington, he expressed the hope that they would be successful and agreed in reciprocity, they would deserve the gratitude of the country, and he should be happy to give them a small amount of approbation and of gratitude for their success.

He also referred to the concession of the Bank of England to the Bank of France, and to the perfectly well founded expectation that if the people were dissatisfied, they would certainly be in favor of recognizing the Bank of England.

The question of Riel's position will early be considered by the House.

